

Hospice Through Jewish Eyes

Date
Thursday, March 22, 2012

Time
9:00 AM—12:30 PM

Program Agenda

Breakfast and Registration
Welcome/D'var Torah

Keynote Address

Dr. Beth Popp
Associate Director at Maimonides Medical Center

Panel Discussion:

Hospice – a Jewish Case Study

Short Topic Presentations

Traditional Sources of Text as Related to End of Life

Rabbi Stephanie Dickstein
Director of Shira-Ruskay Center
Jewish Board of Family and Children's Services

Benefits of Using a Hospice Program

Sharon Criscione
Clinical Director of Stein Hospice

Endnote Address

Hospice in Observant Communities

Rabbi Bryan Kinzbrunner
Chaplain of Stein Hospice

LOCATION

Wilf Jewish Community Campus
1391 Martine Avenue
Scotch Plains, NJ

CEU Credits for Chaplains available

Event Sponsored By

The Martin and Edith Stein Hospice
Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey
The Joint Chaplaincy Committee of New Jersey
The National Association of Jewish Chaplains

Don't miss this important professional education day. Join with other Jewish colleagues and develop a clearer understanding of how and when to talk about services of a hospice for those in the end stages of life.

Through a variety of experts in this field, learn how Jewish Hospice services can bring comfort and solace to people in a way that stays within Halachic boundaries at all levels of observance.

Leave with the ability and understanding to explain how the unique experience of Jewish Hospice can make a difference for both the patient and their family.

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Beth Popp Associate Director, Division of Hematology/Medical Oncology; Maimonides Medical Center, Brooklyn, New York

Intended audience— Rabbis, Chaplains, Social Workers,
Professional Federation Employees

Registration Fee: $18

Register online at: www.jewishjerseycentral.org

For Information: Cecille Asekoff

Director of the Joint Chaplaincy Committee of NJ
Phone: 973-929-3168

Dietary Laws Observed

